INTRODUCTION

"Friends of Albania (1991-2009) was formed by Miss Primrose Peacock and others as an information service to subscribers. It was apolitical, religiously ecumenical and specifically intended to distance members from either or both of the then existing politically biased Albanian friendship organisations in the U.K. Initially members were British, but from 1993 Maltese subscribers joined us and a few people (mainly academics) or expatriates from elsewhere. We became a body of knowledge with members from a very wide range of backgrounds, right across the religious, political and academic spectrums.

FoA was not a charity or aid agency. We were registered for tax as a non-profit making charitable body, prepared annual accounts for the tax office, and donated any excess money from administration annually. Participants were entirely voluntary and usually paid their own travelling expenses etc, if they were representing FoA. From 1992 we published a newsletter, succeeded by a quarterly journal BESA initially for members, but later circulated to any briefly by a Website but this was terminated owing to excessive pestering by persons purporting to require funds.

From inception an archive of material was established to which members contributed. We also received archival material from the former Albanian Society and the estate of the late Miss Nanette Godfrey. Duplicated material was given to the London Albanian Embassy in 2004. We received duplicated material from the Albanian State Library by exchange early in the 1990s."

ABSTRACT

This collection reflects the archival efforts of the Friends of Albania society. It mostly consists of article clippings documenting contemporary events, with a focus on both world news and the personal endeavors of individual members and organizations. Also included are various mementos, letter and email correspondence, article drafts, and a multimedia collection.

N.B.: Items marked with a yellow dot represent those listed on the Friends of Albania database.
